

Children learning in Kenya

Lunch and learn

Lunch and learn is a great way to engage with employees, customers, clients and extended networks in an informal setting. Staff members from Mary's Meals can give a talk, either in person or online, on our simple solution to world hunger.

We can share the inspiring story of how Mary's Meals began and how your staff can play a role in our global movement. Together, we feed more than 2.4 million children every day in their place of education – giving children the energy they need to learn and opening doors to a route out of poverty. Find out how your organisation can take part.

Volunteer your time and skill-share with Mary's Meals

As a charity we are always grateful for pro-bono support from our partners. This provides a great volunteering opportunity for your staff and makes a real difference to our goal of feeding the next hungry child.
